I remember when our Vice-Chancellor & senior managers would visit the picket lines to engage with our concerns

wow how many decades
have you worked here?

oh I just
meant
pre-Covid

another
lifetime
innit

BUT NOW?

a guide to quick wins for uni managers do an equality audit of your approach to processing pay deductions for striking staff; use it to make sure that our lowest-paid staff aren't pushed into poverty

make sure that the pay you deduct from striking staff is used to benefit students, not the uni's bank balance stop bullying your staff about pay deductions for ASOS... ah you did this one, that's great!

write about some or all of these wonderful actions in your next awards application for the 'best university in the world ever' competition
